RUMOR OF TEUTONIC

London, Jan. 2, 10.06 p. m.—Russia's campaign in Bessarabia continues to be the most important visible war activity. From the Pripet to the Rumanian frontier, over a front of at least 300 miles, a huge Russian force with a great appearance of confidence is hurling sledge hammer blows at the opposing force, which, according to all accounts, totals at least a million and a half men.

Same London observers, speculating on the meaning of the Bessarabia move, hall it as one of the most amstrategic plans since the be-g of hostilities and predict that I prove a colossal attempt to the backbone of the Germanic whole line across the Balkans, one critic says:

Allies to Meet in Balkans.

The plan is that Russia and the other allies, moving from different sides, shall meet in the Balkans and gain complete mastery of that peninsula. If they succeed, Turkey will be subdied and the vitals of Austria-Hungary menaced.

So long as Russia keeps up her present activity just north of the Rumanian border, the attitude of Rumanian will continue to grow in importance. There have seen many assertions in the entente capitals that Rumania was about to enter the war one the side of the allies, but nothing to support this has yet been heard from credible Rumanian sources.

Testonic Aeroplanes Fly Over Greece.

Meanwhile, in the south of the Balkan peninsula the allies continue their expectant attitude toward a threatened attack, although Greece seems mainly occupied in making various diplomatic protests, having followed up her polite protest to the central powers against their seroplanes flying across Greek territory, in a raid which killed a Greek shepherd and a few sheep.

to what the United States will do now. Despatches from English correspondents picture the sinking of the Persia as a particularly aggravated case, owing to the fact that the ship was not only hit without warning or opportunity for the passengers to escape, but was also hit in a most vital part, so that she sank almost immediately, the whole time from the launching of the torpedo to the disappearance of the liner being only five minutes.

Submarine Activity in Mediterranean. In connection with the submarine activity in the Mediterranean it is interesting to note that an official report shows a total of only twenty British steamships sunk by the submarines during the month of December, with the loss of 67 lives, while eight more were sunk by mines with the loss of 18 lives.

For the English cabinet Wednesday will be a red letter day, for on that day Premier Asquith will introduce compulsion. The premier probably has nover had a more difficult task than he will have in engineering this measure and his speech, presenting it to the house, is expected to be one of the finest afforts of his career.
